

Mindlings: Encounters within Inner Space

Normand R. Bernier

Mindlings
Genre: Fantasy/Science Fiction
ISBN: 1-58736-397-6
Hats Off Books

Book Summary

When Professor John Robis becomes a subject in a secretive sensory-input experiment, he doesn't anticipate that he will enter a portal more mysterious than a black hole. Crossing a chasm between matter and spirit, he discovers a world inhabited by mindlings, beings much like ourselves who live within us. His odyssey propels him into a strange medieval world, where the mindlings who compose his identity struggle among themselves and endanger his life.

In a riveting struggle between love and power, John and his inner allies confront a fate that neither he nor they could have imagined. His final discovery, which brings him face to face with death itself, has the power to transform those who dare to journey with him.

Book Review(s)

A Must Read. This is a highly thought provoking novel of fantasy. Readers will see themselves in the conflicts that must be overcome by the characters and will likely learn a little something about their own lives and mindlings. The book is well written, the story captivating and compelling. I highly recommend Normand R. Bernier's "Mindlings" and encourage readers to take a "strange journey inward."

---Reviewed by Heather Froeschl, BookReview.com

Author Bio

Normand R. Bernier received his doctoral degree from Teachers College Columbia University and is currently an emeritus professor at Kent State University. He co-authored Beyond Beliefs: The Ideological Foundations of American Education and is currently writing a sequel to Mindlings: Encounter within Inner Space. He is a resident of Fairlawn, Ohio.

Author Contact Information

Normand R. Bernier
3800 Rosemont Blvd. Apt108G
Fairlawn, Ohio 44333

330-668-6013

Norm408@aol.com

www.Mindlings.com

Representation:
Contact Author.

To Order:

HatsOff Books.com,
Amazon.com,
Barnes&Nobles.com.